Philippines Again Defeated

MANILA, Feb. 10.—11:45 a. m.—The insurgent forces are massing at Malabon and Calocan. It is reported that they have six thousand men there. Aguinaldo himself is at Marikina, seven miles north, endeavoring to reorganize his shattered army.

MANILA, Feb. 10.—7:25 p. m.—Calocan was captured by the Americans at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, after three hours fighting. General Otis was in command of the troops and was assisted in the capture of the town by the gunboat Concord, the monitor Mooadnock, and the gunboat Albatross.

MANILA, Feb. 10.—7:30 p. m.—The American flag was raised at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon over the town of Calocan, where Aguinaldo was reported to have gathered the flower of the Filip FALLS CHURCH CARNIVAL.—The cold weather did not deter the citizens of Falls Church from enjoying a scheduled eighth carnival yesterday, although the attendance was not large. The people who gathered to participate in the fair were well satisfied with what they saw. There were nearly one hundred booths in line, embracing many commodities.

The carnival was marred by two accidents neither of which, however, was attended by serious results. Dr. P. I. Quick, the marshal of the parade, was knocked down and run over by a boy on a horseback and bruised about the ribs, but no bones were broken. The four-horse turnout of E. R. Merry became unmanageable after the carnival and rushed through the streets, demolishing a lamp-post in its flight. The occupants were dumped into the snow.

have gathered the flower of the Philippine army. At 2:30 p. m., the monitor Monadnock and the gunboat Concord began the attack upon the town, throwing into it a shower of shells, which did a great deal of damage. The Signal Battery division and the Utah Battery opened fire on the Philippine entrenchments and at 4 o'clock the entire brigade under command of Brigadier General Harrison G. Otis, with the exception of the Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry which was held in reserve, began to advance. The insurgents kept up a rattling fire upon our lines, but the American troops advanced without stopping, firing only when they reached the enemy's entrenchments. In the meantime a company of the First Montana Infantry executed a right flank movement, though badly frightened, were not injured.

To the contestants in the parade twelve prizes were awarded as follows:

For the best one-horse turnout, first prize, M. E. Church; second prize, Geo. J. Mankin. For the best two-horse turnout, first prize, D. B. Patterson; second prize, Dr. P. T. Quick. For the best two-seated sleigh, first prize, C. D. Chapin; second prize, W. E. Parker and J. J. Jacobs. For the best four-horse turnout, first prize, E. R. Mery. For the best trade display, first prize, Sump Taylor; second prize, Joseph Burman. For the most comical and original turnout, first prize, H. H. Post, who rode on a coal scow; second prize, Black Moore, of Merrifield. The judges were W. H. Newton, W. H. Lynch, and J. W. Newton.

driving the enemy's set back back to the town. The Americans rushed over the enemy's trenches, completely routing the Filipinos, who fled to the north. The residence of an Englishman named Higgins was the only house in the town that had a flagstaff. This was borrowed for the occasion and the stars and stripes were run up amid tremendous cheering. As the Twentieth Kansas and First Montana regiments entered the town they set on fire a number of huts in which some natives had concealed themselves for the purpose of firing upon the rear of our troops. The natives fled in a hurry. Our losses were very slight, but those of the enemy heavy. Lieut. Col. Bruce Wallace, of the First Montana infantry, is among the wounded Amer-

After the carnival there was a kind of speed among the many horses in the parade, E. P. Merry winning the first award and Ernest Kerby second. The public schools were suspended for the day and the pupils participated in the carnival, riding in four-horse elicits.

SPANISH ISLAND, Feb. 10.—A large number of Spanish shells and a naval gun have been unearthed near Páramo. They were evidently stolen and cached by the insurgents. Fifteen cart loads of the shells have been brought to this city.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Gen. Marcus Miller, in command of the United States forces before Iloilo, had been ordered to demand the surrender of the city by 9 o'clock this morning. If the rebels did not yield, he was to take the place by force. There are no apprehensions as to the ultimate result but it is feared that the natives, out of revenge, may lay waste the city by the torch and the sword before retiring to the interior, and it is the general opin-

Another letter from the same camp, under date of February 2, says: "On yesterday Captain Joseph E. Willard, who has been acting assistant adjutant general, under Major R. E. L. McCurtain, took the position of aide to General Lee, which was made vacant by the resignation of Lieutenant Carlos E. Grunwald."

"I have it from the best authority, however, that Captain Willard intends in the near future to tender his resignation on the staff of General Lee. The reason which Captain Willard gives is that during this busy season he cannot that at the War and Navy Departments that they began this work with the firing of the first shot. It is not expected that the insurgents will surrender or evacuate the place without a fight and there is hardly a doubt that a battle is now on.

[Iloilo is about 325 miles from Manila, and a there is no telegraphic communication between the two places, news of the result of General Miller's demand will not reach Manila at the earliest before Sunday.]

Fires.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Fire early this morning in a double tenement on Essex street, turned twenty families the personal affairs of his own people, as his personal attention, and, besides, as the minister of settling back with the family. The captain says that neither could he influence him to leave if he so wishes, nor was he so much needed, but there seems to be no prospect of any further trouble. Captain Willard's departure could be a source of regret, as the popularity which he enjoyed in the third Virginia regiment finds a counterpart among the followers of General Lee."

George J. Fox was read, accompanied by a letter, in which he acknowledged that he had sinned and had brought shame and dishonor upon the church. The young clergyman confessed that he had erred grievously, but said he believed he had found forgiveness in God, and expressed the hope that the members of the church would bear no ill will against him because of his having strayed from the path of rectitude. It was unanimously decided by the members of the church not to accept the resignation. The meeting was later adjourned, and was harmonious. No specific charges were preferred against

LATER.—The mansion was completely destroyed. Most of the governor's private property was saved. Mrs. Bradley and her daughter left the city this morning leaving the mansion in charge of the servants.

Capt. Ryan is a whisky expert. He can tell almost to a day the age of any sample submitted to him. Give him a few drops of whisky and he can tell you the brand, the distiller, where it was made, when, and detect adulteration if there is any. Blend two or three kinds of whisky and he can tell the brand.
